Be the cutting edge

In 2001, Swinburne University of Technology founded the Australian Graduate School of Entrepreneurship (AGSE). This makes us Australia's first dedicated entrepreneurship school. We see disruption as an opportunity. And that's the mindset we teach.

Get exclusive access to Swinburne's vibrant entrepreneurship community, which includes the Innovation Studio, and take advantage of its workshops, masterclasses and Accelerator Program – kickstart your business idea while you study!

Building on Swinburne's longstanding practice of real-world leadership, the curriculum in each AGSE degree is co-created with industry leaders. On top of that, you'll get the best of two worlds: industry practitioners, known as pracademics, teaching alongside Swinburne academics.

The practical application of your learning experience is further emphasised with industry speakers, on-site events, real-life case studies, and guest lecturers from industry and academia.

You'll be building new networks from your first day.

Master of Human Resource Management

With employees more mobile across their careers and increased tech disruption, the role for human resource professionals is growing increasingly critical within the workplace. There is an intensifying need to effectively manage people and organisations through transitions and changes to business. By 2025, the Australian Government's Labour Market Insights predicts a significant 16.3% increase in the number of HR manager positions.

Building a team with the right people is critical to the success of any business. The Master of Human Resource Management will equip you to confidently lead change and people in any environment you find yourself in. That's the edge you owe yourself.

Who you are

You are a professional in the management of people and are looking to take that next step in your career in the areas of human resources, people development, change management, organisational development, diversity, training & development and talent management.

Where it can take you

This course is for those looking to pursue senior level careers in human resource management and covers essential skills for your professional development and future career. The program has a strong emphasis on applying this knowledge in practical business environments to help progress your career to managerial and business partner positions in human resources and consultancy in roles such as Director of Human Resources or Senior Consultant.

Entry requirements

Complete in 2 years, full time or equivalent part-time, if you have

- Any recognised bachelor degree (or higher award). If you have additional qualifications, you may receive Advanced Standing and complete in less than two years, or
- Finished Postgraduate Qualifying Program (international applicants only).

Complete in 1.5 years, full time or equivalent part-time, if you have

- A bachelor degree or graduate certificate in a related discipline, or
- A bachelor degree (or higher award) in any discipline plus two years' work experience, or
- Finished Postgraduate Qualifying Program (international applicants only) plus two years' work experience or two years' of higher education.

Complete in 1 year, full time or equivalent part-time, if you have

- Finished Graduate Certificate of Human Resource Management, or
- An honours bachelor degree in a related discipline.

Course duration

Course duration depends on prior study and experience: 2 years (16 units); 1.5 years (12 units); 1 year (8 units) full-time or equivalent.

Professor Anne Bardoel
Course Director

“Companies can have great products, services or ideas but it’s good people management that can ultimately make the difference between success and failure. In this competitive world, companies need people with specialised skills and knowledge of human resource practices to manage people effectively.

This is why career analysts expect the number of jobs in human resources to increase.

The AGSE’s Master of Human Resource Management has been designed in collaboration with our industry partners who are at the forefront of a rapidly changing business landscape. Our students actually get to meet and learn directly from our partners – seeing these leaders in action is invaluable.”

“Most of my fellow students are a similar age to my children. That has not prevented us from taking our different perspectives, and moulding them together, to come up with better solutions than we would have if we’d done the work with those our same age. That age diversity is a definite strength and an opportunity that companies could leverage. The so-called ‘generation gap’ is not insurmountable.”

Supply Chain Innovation

This specialisation uniquely combines supply chain management, design thinking and data analytics. Plus, you could add a Lean Six Sigma Green Belt to your qualifications. Most units are co-created and, in some cases, co-delivered with industry partners. Choose four units.
